Attached is the Clandestine Services position on the future of Project [REDACTED]. [REDACTED] briefed Colonel White on the substance of this paper earlier today.

The Executive Director now awaits your advice in terms of an Agency view on [REDACTED]. Any major revision of the [REDACTED] format and program will no doubt require some sort of base-touching in the DOD, [REDACTED] and company, with their contacts in JCS, may be helpful in this regard.

[REDACTED] pointed out that the JCS has advised us that some 120 days of lead time is required prior to the beginning of a [REDACTED] course. This would mean, I gather, that we should be in a position to give a formal statement to the JCS sometime in the next couple of weeks.

You will note that Tom Karamessines, in approving the attached paper, did so "on the understanding that it has the concurrence of the Executive Director." The Executive Director prefers to await your advice on an Agency basis.
